Penetrating new markets as well as increasing Teksan's share in existing ones is a must for our global company vision. Therefore, we definitely take part in important events related to our industry. One of the most important of these events is the Power-Gen Exhibition. This year, we took part in the exhibition with our innovative products that bear UL-Certificate, the most prestigious product quality and safety certificate of the USA, and we have attracted considerable interest from the visitors. The Power-Gen Exhibition was very productive not only for introducing our products and services but also for establishing new business connections.
